

What is your why? List as many “whys” as you can think of below. If your “whys” are big enough, then you can do this. If you think this is a get rich quick process, sorry to burst your balloons. You have lots of work ahead of you. If your “why” is small, your efforts will be small and you will wonder why “it” isn’t working.

So, what did you say your “whys” were? Remember them - they will encourage you when you want to throw in the towel, buy more towels and throw them in, too!
